ference At Harrisburg

"There will be no change in the method of handling relief work in Lawrence county, at least for the present," said former Senator George T. Weingartner today, commenting upon complaints against the commissary plan. Senator Weingartner has been in Harrisburg since Monday morning and arrived home last night. With him was County Commissioner P. O. Elder, the two men making the trip to Harrisburg for the purpose of discussing the relief situation and protesting against the commissary plan.

The Lawrence County Emergency Relief board is headed by Senator Weingartner as chairman with the following members: Attorney Robert L. Wallace, Mrs. S. M. Matheny, Miss Della Glenn and Superintendent of Schools Vaughn R. DeLong of Ellwood City. Speaking for the board Senator Weingartner said: "The Emergency Relief board has endeavored to administer the state

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Rain which fell during the night, was badly needed to wash off the scum of dirt which has accumulated during the past few weeks.

Pa Newc noticed a machine on the street Wednesday, which bore a 1932 Missouri license plate. Evidently Missouri is not so particular about when new licenses are procured.

Although the road to West Pittsburg is open, it is pretty rough in spots. Only about half the work has been completed. The road has been re-located where it runs out of Sheep Hill, and there is still some grading and paving to be done on this end, while about half the distance on the other end of the road has been graded but not paved.

Pa Newc notes that someone pulled up the street intersection warning sign at Park and Carlisle, and carried it around the corner onto Park avenue.

With the completion of the West Pittsburg road indicated early this spring, something should be done by council to repair Moravia street and put it in better shape for traffic. This is one of the most widely traveled streets in the city and perhaps the roughest.

Trolley car operators on the Highland avenue route, and others perhaps, found difficulty in taking their cars up the hill grades on Wednesday afternoon, so slippery were the rails. It appeared that sand boxes were drained considerably. A light drizzle was responsible.

For the second time in succession the exhibits of the Lawrence County Wool Growers' association took first prize at the state farm show, now in progress at Harrisburg, according to word received from County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch.

Their exhibit of six fleeces of medium wool won first place, and in addition they took high honors in the different other classifications. Their winnings included first and second places in the one-half blood; first, second, third and fourth in the three-eighths blood, and first in the one-fourth blood.

Guy Fullerton of Enon Valley, who had several separate exhibits, also won high honors, taking second for the medium wool, ram, and first and third for the medium wool, ewe;

Lawlessness Fight Job For Churches, Local Judge Says

Judge Chambers Sees Combat
Of Organized Groups As Greatest Force

Judge James A. Chambers believes the greatest force for arousing the public conscience against the undermining power of lawlessness in Lawrence county, in Pennsylvania and in the nation lies within "the hands of the church people."

And when he spoke last night on "The Church and the Law" before an informal community gathering at the First U. P. church he strongly expressed that conviction, adding that now is the opportune time for the forces for good to strike.

The county judge's message featured last night's program in the series of four community fellowship get-togethers which the congregation is holding. J. Clyde Gillilan presided.

Tonight the church will hear Griff Thomas speak on "Wales" and on Friday night Dr. James A. Blackwood will describe his visit to Egypt. Services commence at 7:45 o'clock.

ROBINS GO SOUTH BUT ONLY AS FAR AS WEST PITTSBURG

When state police and county officers were called to West Pittsburg, Wednesday, after the body of Ellsworth McCoy had been found in the woods south of town, they discovered huge flocks of robins flying about.

The spot is old timber land which has been cut over and is now growing up with brush and small trees. The spot seems to be an ideal one for the birds to winter, as great numbers of them were noted.

PEIPING, Jan. 19.—With mobilization of Japanese and Manchukuo forces complete, the order for renewal of Japan's drive against Jehol Province was tensely awaited today.

Reports from Chinese scouts indicated the Japanese advance might start almost momentarily, and Chinese commanders throughout North China prepared to resist the expected invasion bitterly.

Mantle of Snow
The mantle of snow covering North China and Jehol Province appeared to give the grey-clad Chinese troops a decided advantage over the khaki-clad Japanese troops. Stationed about numerous mountain passes throughout the disputed province, the Chinese troops were scarcely visible because of the snow, while the Japanese could easily be discerned, as their uniforms contrasted vividly with the white background.

Drastic Action
Shanghai, Jan. 19.—Chinese government officials took drastic action today to counteract concentration of Japanese and Manchukuo troops in North China and Manchuria for a drive of Jehol Province.

Determined to defend the threatened province at all odds, Minister of War Ho Ying-Ching agreed to permit Cheng Chi-Tang, military commander in Canton Province, to send Canton troops against Rebel Communists at Kiangsi, thus freeing regular troops of the Nanking government to proceed to North China if necessary.

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 19.—Everything is different nowadays, even the way a country gets its freedom. We give the Philippines twelve years. In two years they are to have a Constitution that is suitable to us. I hope they make it. Ours after 150 years is not suitable to us.

They owe us some money, so we bet their freedom against ten years, that they can't pay us that. (We can't pay our national debt in 100 years.) So, here is all they got to do to get their freedom: Get a Constitution that will suit Democrat and Republican, pay all their debts, and keep out of the clutches of Japan.

That's what I call a sporting offer.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 19.—"Oh, I so hope they believe what I told. I tried so hard—so very hard to make everything clear—how Jack bullied me and told me what to do. If they hadn't interrupted me so many times, I wouldn't have gotten so excited."

This was the reaction today of Winnie Ruth Judd—calmed by a night's rest after her sensational revelation of what she claimed was the "inside story" of the "trunk murders" of her two friends, Agnes Anne Lerol and Hedvig Samuelson.

Fighting For Life
Mrs. Judd, the so-called "Velvet Tigress," was not alone a witness at the preliminary hearing of J. J. "Happy Jack" Halloran, who is charged with having been an accessory to the murders for which she has been sentenced to hang.

She was a woman fighting for life—striking with all the force at her command against the man she says she appealed to in her trouble and whose silence she now feels has placed her in the shadow of the gallows. Her story of the fight with Agnes and "Sammy" which culminated in their slaying poured from her lips in a furious torrent of words. Battling to overcome hysteria which twice forced adjournment of court she told—incoherently at times but with a sincerity that brought tears to the spectators who packed the little court room and even to hardened court attaches—the story that she claims has been hidden in her heart since that tragic night more than a year ago.

Special Call

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt has already determined upon a date for a special session of congress, it was reported in congressional circles today.

The session, held inevitable because the Democratic program can not be passed in the present "Lame Duck" session, is expected to be called about April 15.

One influential congressional Democrat, while protesting that he does not speak for the next president, declares privately he can name the date of the extra session. Another has predicted its convening four to six weeks after the inauguration on March 4.

President-elect Roosevelt has indicated he would announce his plans on inauguration day.

JAPANESE ACT TO GUARD AMERICANS

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Jan. 19.—Acting on the demand of United States Ambassador Joseph Clark Grew for adequate protection of American lives and property, Japanese authorities today assigned heavy detachments of police to guard the homes of officers of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, whose Yokohama branch was wrecked by strikers.

Scores of police were assigned to the wrecked plant to prevent any further acts of sabotage, while the homes and hotel rooms of five American and four British employees of the firm also were guarded.

The strike leading to the attack upon the Yokohama plant has now extended to six cities. Radical leaders responsible for the walkout declare that 5,000 workers have now joined the strike.

Mrs. Lillie B. Jones Given Fine Tribute For P. H. C. Service

Testimonial dinner, followed later Wednesday evening with program in honor of Mrs. Lillie B. Jones, given as a tribute to her many long years of faithful service to New Castle Circle No. 5, Protected Home Circle, at headquarters on East Washington street, was one of the outstanding events in the history of the organization.

It was marked as an occasion of special moment by the fact that there was not only a large turnout of members of the New Castle Circle to do her honor, but there were visiting members from Ellwood City and Beaver Falls Circles and the presence of numerous Supreme and Grand Circle officers and their wives from Sharon.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 19.—Pennsylvania's senate was definitely marked today as the battleground where opposing forces will match strength to maintain or modify Sunday observance laws. Eventually, the conflict of wet and dry forces will be staged there, too.

Decision of the house law and order committee to forego public hearings on the blue law modifiers placed the burden squarely upon the upper body of the assembly. The committee of that branch will conduct the hearings. The house group will report at least one of the Sunday measures affirmatively next week, spokesmen promise. The time of the test in the senate is uncertain.

House Battle Won
Leaders of the drive for dry law repeal and Sunday sports contend their battle in the house is won, allowing even for a veto of their bills. They admit counting heads in the senate, but no claims of victory there have been made yet by either side.

The so-called liberals, however, do insist their legislation will be brought to a floor vote in the senate. That, at least, advances their cause one step farther. Two years ago the "home rule" bill on Sunday observance was smothered in senate committee. Meanwhile, the tide of opposition to Sabbath law tampering and prohibition repeal is rising swiftly. Legislators favoring an open Sunday, who planned their campaign far in

Start Razing Of All Buildings On Post Office Site

Actual Wrecking Of Buildings On Public Square
Is Started Today

WORK WILL TAKE SEVERAL WEEKS

Expect Actual Construction Of New Post Office To Be Started Soon

A block of vacant buildings on the southwest section of the public square—historic old structures to some—felt the first attack of pick and crowbar this morning as workmen of the Harris Wrecking Company, Chicago firm, began the job of clearing the site for the new $209,500 post office.

It marked the initial move to "push over" the standing buildings—the first move, so far as everything goes toward actual construction of the authorized magnificent new federal edifice.

It appeared today that within four to six weeks the diamond parcel would be entirely ready for the A. W. Kutsche company general contractors from Detroit to muster steam shovels at the site. The Kutsche firm has 430 days to complete the building dating from January 15.

Tearing Plumbing Out
Today's work at the old buildings was to bring the removal of all plumbing fixtures and other equipment worthy of salvage before the wrecking starts. This may require several days.

J. H. Eliscu, representing the Harris company was personally supervising the work. He was expected to place a foreman in charge of operations shortly.

While one or two of the smaller buildings which stood on the plot were razed some months ago the job begun today involves the larger brick buildings which front on Washington street.

Labor at the site is being done exclusively by New Castle men.

Long Avenue Store Scene Of Robbery

Small Amount Of Money Is Missing From Cash Register Of The Place

Store of Elias Haddad, 417 East Long avenue, was the scene of a robbery sometime last night, the police report.

Officers investigating found that entrance had been affected by breaking the glass in a rear door and reaching in and unlocking the door.

Between eight and ten dollars in change left in the cash register was taken. Apparently nothing else of value was taken.

The Haddad family reside upstairs over the store but did not hear anything.

Arthur Mometer

There's a green hill far away, so the songster used to say, and I know the place, at least the one I mean, for the hill is long and steep, and upon it dogwoods creep, and the carpet of it is an emerald green. And down at the foot I know there's a place I long to go, where the brooklet trickles on its merry way, there's a pool there, calm and still, nestled down below the hill where I used to spend my time on summer days. There it's peaceful like and cool and sometimes I'd skip the school, just to swim there, several other kids and me, and it calls me days like these, when there's summer in the breeze, and it's warm, the weather's up to sixty three.

WOMAN IS READY TO AID STILLMAN

Stillman Will Fight Charges Of Alienation

James A. Stillman, Former New York Bank President And "Playboy" To Fight Canadian

IS ACCUSED OF STEALING WOMAN

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—James A. Stillman, former National City bank president whose domestic misadventures have swirled in and out of court for many years, can count on Marjorie Rochefort to stand by in the $200,000 alienation of affection suit brought by his business hand, Luc, Montreal politician.

Mrs. Rochefort disclosed this today in the wake of revelation that Rochefort had started action against the banker in Brooklyn, inferentially naming Stillman as a "love pirate."

Rochefort's contention, revealed in court argument, that Stillman stole the love of his wife, hasn't much basis according to the Montrealer's wife. There wasn't any love left to steal, she intimated.

"I think that my husband's lawsuit is an outrage," declared she. "I lost whatever love I had for him years ago. Our life was just one separation after another."

"Mr. Stillman can count on me if he needs me to tell the truth in this case. And the story I will tell won't be of any help to Luc Rochefort."

Charges Affair
Rochefort, twice a candidate for mayor of the Canadian city, charged the 62-year old millionaire carried on a romance with Mrs. Rochefort which began in a Long Island city apartment and moved to Cuba.

Malcolm Sumner, attorney for Stillman, arguing a libel action brought by Rochefort against the banker, declared the alienation action was baseless and that the Montreal politician knew of and encouraged the relationship between his wife and Stillman.

The libel action, Sumner said, was merely a "squeeze play," to force Stillman to settle the alienation matter out of court. A motion to examine Stillman in the libel suit is pending before Supreme Court Justice Edward Riegelman.

Demands Censure
Stillman's counsel termed the action "little short of blackmail," and demanded the court censure Alfred Becker, attorney for Rochefort.

With revelation of the suit, all New York sat back to await January 25, the date set by the court for filing of all papers in the case.

Stillman, through Sumner, announced he would fight the case right up to the supreme court and entered a general denial of the Montrealer's allegations.

Mr. Rochefort has described in detail the easiest way to collect money. The easiest way we know about is to own an oil company.

PA NEW OBSERVES

of "Buy American." For one thing, he ardently believes that the "Star Spangled Banner" or "America" should be sung as our country's theaters open and close. In Great Britain not a show place opens or closes without the audience singing "God Save the King." And the idea is a good one.

These days we are liable to see Ne-Ca-Hi students parading the downtown streets any hour of the day. It's examination time, you know. Yesterday Young Pa News observed one student walking along East Washington street very slowly because he was trying to cram into his head some facts from a notebook he was reading as he went along.

This morning reminded Pa News of one of those early days in April when the day is wet and the air is balmy.

At the rate of speed the men were working this morning, the tearing down of the structure on the diamond to make way for the new post office should take only a short time. One of the Pa News roamed over there this morning and took a look around. The interior of the buildings are being attacked first. The sound of hammers and splitting wood echoed through the district. The wrecking crew is certainly making up for the delay in starting.

Next on the calendar is St. Valentine's Day, Tuesday, February 14. 'Tis the time when a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of sending a card, or a heart-shaped box of candy or a bouquet of yellow roses.

When the police station going to replace that shattered pane of glass?

Pa News saw a roadster whizzing by East street this morning with its top down and a couple young things in the rumble. A little later Pa spied two young men going downtown wearing palm beach colored suits. Now if we could find a fishing worm and a couple little girls playing "jacks" we would know it is spring.

There is going to be a noticeable decline in chicken stealing on Lawrence County farms, Pa News would opine. In several instances recently thieves have been shot at by farmers who have discovered that effort was being made to tamper with the coops, and there will probably be more such instances. Most all farmers now have burglar alarms on their chicken coops, and are warned when effort is made to enter.

California licenses must be good for quite a period after the year expires. Pa News noted a car on the streets here yesterday, that was marked with a 1932 California license.

Penn Coal Company
Safe Forced Open
Thieves Get Nothing For Their Efforts, The Police Report

Police were advised at 9 o'clock this morning that the safe in the office of the Penn Coal and Supply company on Moravia street, had been forced open some time during the night.

Officers were detailed to investigate and found that the thieves had gained entrance through a side window.

The outer doors of the safe were unlocked. The thieves, however, pried open the smaller and lighter inner door of the safe.

A checkup by the officials of the company disclosed the fact that the thieves had secured nothing of value for their efforts.

Officers Installed
The following officers were then installed in due form:—President, Anna Stephenson; Vice-President, Emory Back; Guardian, Kate Cowles; Secretary, Ann Lyden Galkinski; Accountant, George W. Muse; Treasurer, George W. Wyman; Chaplain, Jesse Cowles; Guide, Jack Kennedy; Companion, Charles Kennedy; Sentinel, Ada Shook; Watchman, Flora Cunningham; Past-President, Hildred Back.

Business of the evening disposed of, the meeting was then turned over to State Deputy Morris Henlein of Erie as master of ceremonies and from that time on, Mrs. Jones was subjected to a barrage of remarks of appreciation of her friend.

At the time for the installation of the officers, Supreme President Hadley accepted the invitation of the members and officers to act as installing officer and appointed Gladys Irwin and Mildred Rodgers to act as Supreme Guides in the installation exercises.

The regular business meeting of New Castle Circle followed the dinner and the number present was very materially increased as the lodge convened in regular form with Morris Henlein of Erie, State Deputy, in the chair, and presiding.

While the business session was in progress, Supreme President and Mrs. S. H. Hadley of Sharon, arrived and were accorded a rousing welcome and escorted to seats of honor.

At the time for the installation of the officers, Supreme President Hadley accepted the invitation of the members and officers to act as installing officer and appointed Gladys Irwin and Mildred Rodgers to act as Supreme Guides in the installation exercises.

Emory Back then played two pleasing selections on the violin. Joseph Spencer, Grand Circle Secretary and Supreme Auditor, then spoke of Mrs. Jones in Grand Circle affairs as he had known her.

Attorney George W. Muse, accountant of the circle, was the concluding speaker and did his part in his usual interesting and effective manner and in conclusion presented Mrs. Jones with a handsome basket of flowers and a beautiful pen and pencil desk set on behalf of the Circle.

At the conclusion of his remarks, Mrs. Jones was drawn into a circle formed by the members, who sang a few words of love and appreciation of her and her work.

Mrs. Jones was so affected that she could not respond, being overcome in an attempt by the depth of her feeling.

STATE SENATE TO BE BATTLEGROUND ON SUNDAY LAWS

advance, have met with a mass protest as great in vigor and extent as it ever was.

Proponents of the open Sunday recognize a dual handicap. The first is the very obvious fact that achievement of their objective necessitates the uprooting of laws firmly entrenched by age and tradition in the commonwealth's statute books. The forces opposing a commercialized Sabbath hold the fort.

Opposition is Strong
The second is almost as generally conceded: the closed Sunday advocates are better organized.

Some 70,000 will combat as vigorously as ever the renewed attempts to commercialize the Sabbath. The Threshermen's and Farmer's Protective association took the same stand yesterday.

Ultimately, the really significant question can find its answer only in the governor's office. Whether it is mere rumor, or a bona fide "leak" the story persists that Gov. Gifford Pinchot will sign a bill permitting baseball and certain other sports under strict regulation, during the Sunday afternoon hours. He is understood, however, to be as firm as ever in his opposition to throwing the Sabbath wide open to rampant commercialism.

At least a dozen petitions strenuously opposing any breakdown of the Sunday bans have reached the house. More are on the way. Women's Christian Temperance units and kindred societies are adopting resolutions as rapidly as their regular meeting dates arrive.

A survey shows that, as in the past, party lines on this legislation will be ignored. Party leaders have refrained from issuing blanket orders.

Grange Pledges Support
Modificationists admit the hope or despair of their cause rests largely in the rural districts. Their hopes were dealt a severe blow with the announcement that Pennsylvania State Grange with a membership of Blemishes on Face and Shoulders Almost a Year. Cuticura Healed.

"For almost a year I was troubled with blemishes that took the form of pimples and blackheads. My face and shoulders were the affected parts. The pimples were large and red and my shoulders became sore from the rubbing of my shoulder straps. The pimples itched and after scratching them they festered and were so sore that I could not sleep.

"People suggested many remedies; I tried all but to no avail. Cuticura Soap and Ointment were suggested and I was completely healed, after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Helen Mann, 7515 Claridge St., Phila., Pa., July 21, 1932.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Saves $2. No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs very little, but it positively has no equal for quick, lasting relief.

From any drug store get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and children love its taste.

The simple mixture soothes and heals the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief—money refunded.

Calhoun Golden Anniversary Observed At New Wilmington

The spacious home of Dr. and Mrs. S. Ernest Calhoun, of North Market street, New Wilmington, was the scene of a delightful gathering on Tuesday when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown Calhoun celebrated their golden wedding.

The occasion was marked by the serving of a delicious turkey dinner at noon, and covers were marked for twenty guests. Two large round tables, each centered with a crystal bowl of Tallman roses and Snapdragons, flanked by tall golden tapers in crystal holders presented a pretty setting. Gold and white tones prevailed throughout in all menu and room appointments.

Scores on congratulatory messages were received by the honored couple during the day as well as many beautiful gifts and a purse of gold.

On January 18, 1883, the Rev. John T. Brownlee, D. D., united in marriage John Brown Calhoun and Mary Elizabeth Jamison at the home of the bride's father, Samuel Jamison, near West Middletown. For several years they resided in Savannah, O., later moving to Apollo, where Mr. Calhoun was engaged in business until eleven years ago when they took up their residence at New Wilmington.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

TIMING IS LIVING
We live in time, time is our most precious possession, and timing is the secret of our success in anything we do.

A prizefighter told me that timing is necessary for hard punching. Without timing a man cannot throw his weight behind his fist. Without timing he cannot carry himself through a fight, saving his energy, spending it to the fullest, winning the encounter.

A golfer told me that timing is essential for a correct, accurate and powerful swing in his favorite game.

I saw a small man playing a guard position on a football team. A sports writer told me that player's success was made possible by his uncanny gift of timing. Time gave him the power to hold off much bigger men or drive them out of the way.

Anybody knows that timing is important in cooking. If you ever tried to cook a simple meal you know what a mess you made of it because you didn't know how to bring everything hot to the table. (I learned that, for all time, when I tried to poach an egg and transformed it into rubber.)

Farming is timing. Pruning, spraying, cultivating, thinning, picking, so runs the orchardist's year.

Growing up is a matter of timing. Steadily, solidly we grow. Learning at the proper instant. Feeling at the right time. Acting at the right instant. Saving, spending, grieving, rejoicing, resigning, defying, accepting, receiving, living and dying, we go through life. And doing the wise thing at the right time is the secret of our best achievement.

FRIEND PARTNER'S INTERESTS

As a matrimonial life partner, probably you have never made any effort to become intelligent about and interested in the things that claim attention of the other person in the combination.

And then you complain when that person seeks the society of those who have kindred interests.

While there may be nothing more than this fact which attracts these persons to each other, your imagination pictures other interests they might have in common.

Congential, satisfied life partnerships would be more prevalent and interesting if each person made an effort to become conversant with the things in which the other finds the greatest pleasure.

Naturally, if close acquaintance reveals that the husband or the wife has no real interest in the things that interest the other, human nature seeks at least a little contact with those in tune with his or her mind.

Whereas if even passive interest had been shown it might have satisfied.

To be sure, there are those who become too much interested in their special favorite topics and will discuss nothing else—which is too bad.

They become tiresome, but with married folk who wish to be "happily married" there is only one thing to do and that is try to be fifty-fifty, each in appreciating and learning about friend partner's interests. It can be done.

THE DOUBTER

He looked at the world through his limited sight.

Saw sunrise at morning and stars shine at night;

Trees bud in the springtime and songbirds return.

And, baffled by secrets he struggled to learn.

He said out of chaos and slime earth and man

By chance were produced without purpose and plan.

Though never he spoke it, and this is my line,

He thought, There's no wisdom that's greater than mine.

To chance and to havoc and not to some law

The credit he gave for what beauty he saw.

No faith, no belief, marked his toll, night or day;

He was honest because he had learned it would pay.

In a world that's so full of such mysteries deep

As red and white roses and waking from sleep;

The seasons, the creatures to instinct condemned,

The oceans, the mountains, the skies, stary-gemmed,

The laughter, the pity, the rich mind of man.

It is hard to believe life lacks purpose and plan.

Proposed Embargo On Arms Debated As National Policy

Trade In Munitions Considered As Factor In Situation Presented By Presidential Message To Congress

Several considerations affecting the adoption of a policy placing arms under an embargo in foreign trade, as a means of discouraging war, are presented in the debate that has developed. The Geneva arms convention of 1925 is before the nations for ratification, and President Hoover, in a message to congress, has asked for action by this country. One obstacle that is suggested is the change of the administration, but the theory of such an embargo is upheld.

"If America would lead in such an embargo," says the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL, "similar action could be hoped for in other nations." That paper argues that "with their supply of ammunition cut off, governments would soon be forced to cease fighting" and that "such a course would starve war instead of starving innocent peoples." The Portland paper also comments as to the course of proceedings in this national effort: "That such action should be taken by the American congress has long been the opinion of Secretary Stimson. Nobody can give a good reason why our chief executive should not be empowered to declare an embargo on arms shipments. Since 1922 the president has had authority to stop shipments to countries involved in internal strife. Now—since all war is civil war, for nations are so utterly dependent on one another that war is suicidal for all concerned—why not extend his authority? It would give America a power for peace that would be almost unmatchable. It would be of greatest immediate value in the dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay, where, while both the League of Nations and the United States are trying to bring peace, European and American armament manufacturers are fattening over the foolish quarrels of these unhappy people."

"The League of Nations," it is pointed out by the NEW ORLEANS TIMES PICAYUNE, "has tried to gather information regarding the extent of this trade, but its figures are admittedly incorrect." As to the available statistics on the subject, that paper states: "The league compilation for the year 1930, published last fall, showed Great Britain leading in the volume of this business, transacted by its nations, with France second and the United States third. The only notation with respect to its profits dealt with a single munitions plant, the great Skoda works, which was said to have paid dividends of 28 1/2 per cent during the year 1930." The Times-Picayune also offers the comment on the situation: "There is no official explanation of the reluctance to ratify. Though Secretary Stimson suggests it may be due to the quiet but active opposition of 'munitions manufacturers throughout the world.' Our own attitude conceivably is waiting affirmative action by the governments of other countries whose national profit from this trade, reasoning, perhaps, that American manufacturers should not be restricted or barred from participation in it until the others are."

"The next administration should push the proposal revived by Mr. Hoover," advises the CHICAGO

I never did know why they changed the name of Peking to Peiping until I talked the other day with an intelligent Chinese merchant. The word "Peking" means the Capital of the North, the word "Pei" in Chinese meaning North and "king" meaning Capital; contrariwise, Nanking was the Capital of the South, "Nan" meaning the South.

When Peking ceased to be the capital city, they changed it to Peiping, meaning the Peace City of the North. "The wish may have been father to the thought" of the Chinese when they gave the city that new name, for Peiping has not yet become a City of Peace.

This Chinese merchant just returned from a visit to his old home in China. I asked him what he believed was to be the outcome of the Japanese occupation of Manchuria. He said, "they will stay," and he went on to say that already the Japanese have made plans to move the Capital of Japan from Tokyo to Seoul in Korea. "They are doing this for two reasons," he said. "The first place Tokyo is shaken every day by an earthquake of greater or lesser magnitude. In the second place Tokyo is upon an island and Japan in its present condition could be shut up by the hostile fleets of the earth and starved into any Treaty of Peace that the Nations saw fit to impose. Now Japan is determined to occupy a country that cannot be shut up and have a capital on the mainland of that part of the world where it will not be threatened with starvation."

Commissary Plan Being Upheld By Emergency Board

Critics Who Condemned Commissary Action, Are Answered Today

RELIEF COST IS GROWING LARGER

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 19.—The state emergency relief board was back today with a firm answer to critics who condemned the establishing of the community market system.

Estimating that at least $100,000-000 will be needed before the end of the year for relief work, and admitting the source of these funds is very indefinite, the board maintained that the commissaries were planned only in order that the money now in sight could be stretched over the longest possible period.

"Healthful and palatable food can be supplied for something like half the cost of the present system of food orders," the board explained.
"The board is not unmindful that the community markets will not contribute to the relief of local retail stores. It recognizes and appreciates the service these stores have rendered in carrying their customers. But this and all other claims must be weighed against the rapidly increasing numbers which must be cared for, the impossibility of securing adequate funds to meet their increasing needs, and the human cry for relief."

LOOSENED
WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatic pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain,
lame back, stiff neck, headache, strain, and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it dinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "soothe" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on "Ben-Gay" and you will get real results.

give full service, that is, both books

give service to only one hospital respectively, but New Castle gives ser-

The finding of the skulls and tor-sors created a nation-wide sensation.
One theory was that the swamp had been used as a murder farm by a gang of bootleggers. Other theories held to the belief that some people might have starved to death in there and a number of other theories were advanced, none of them ever being proven.

Memories of the "swamp murder mystery" were revived for a time on Wednesday when the body of a man was found in the woods near West Pittsburg. Citizens in this vicinity who heard of the discovery of the body harked back in their minds to that snowy morning some six years ago when several skulls and torsors were found in the swamp, bleached from exposure.

The Swamp runs between New Castle and West Pittsburg and is a morass of tangled weeds and vegetation with enough trees to hide the boggy retreat from a roadside view.
Once inside a traveler has to pick his way thru on logs and branches, and there are dozens of spots that offer a sink hole for unwary feet.
In many respects it looks like the Pymatung swamp.

Discovery Of Body At West Pittsburg Revives Swamp Murder Mystery

The "swamp murder mystery" occupied the public mind for the usual nine days or thereabouts, and then settled back into the realm of unsolved mysteries. Nobody has ever found whose skulls or torsors they were, and the probabilities are they never will.

Salary Board Is In Session Today

Third Meeting Is Held In Effort To Set Schedule For Ensuing Year

Another meeting of the county
salary board, composed of County Commissioners Elmer Conners, P. O.
Elder and F. R. Woods and County Treasurer William O. Pitts was held in the commissioners' office today.

This is the third meeting which has been held since the Tax Justice League presented a request for a reduction of salaries.

It is understood that there is an unwillingness on the part of some of the county officials to accept a reduction in their own salaries. This makes it hard to reduce the salaries of employees, as the taxpayers have asked that the cost of government be scaled down all along the line.

The salaries of elected officials are set by act of the legislature, so that any reduction which they may take must be voluntary. The salaries of the employees are within the jurisdiction of the salary board.

Considerable data has been collected by the board in addition to the schedule presented by the Taxpayers League. It includes the amount of the reductions which have been taken in surrounding counties.

Another situation before the commissioners is the action pending in court as to the legality of the commissioners accepting the $600 each for acting as poor directors in addition to the $3000 as commissioners.
Payment of the $600 has been held up pending a ruling of court.

Red Cross Will Appeal For Funds

Letters Will Be Sent Out To Citizens Of City During Coming Week

CALL ATTENTION TO CHAPTER WORK

Letters will be delivered to residents of New Castle by Boy Scouts on Saturday, calling the attention of the public to the supplementary roll call, which will be conducted during the week of January 23.

The attention of the public is called to the activities which are being carried out by the chapter during the past year and which are being continued at the present time. Through the various relief organizations of the county 80,900 sacks of flour were distributed last year and a supply has been received which will be adequate to care for the needs of the county during the next three months.

Approval has been made by the National Red Cross of 70,000 yards of cotton materials, a great portion of which has already been made up into garments by patriotic women of the city and county, making it possible for a great number of children to attend school in warm garments.

In addition, the national organization has approved and is now furnishing to the chapter 9,288 pairs of hose; 8,384 undershirts and union suits; 1,585 pairs of knickers and pants; 1,206 pairs of overalls and play suits; 198 overall jackets and 3,136 sweaters.

An additional order of 240 dozen pairs of hose, 180 dozen suits of underwear, 40 dozen pairs of trousers and knickers, 30 dozen pairs of overalls, seven dozen pairs of jumpers, 90 dozen sweaters for boys and girls, 130 dozen sweaters for women and 122 dozen sweaters for women, with 2,000 additional yards of dark outing flannel.

Delivery of these garments will be made from time to time in the future, assuring a generous supply for those who are in need of clothing. Distribution of the flour is not made directly by the chapter, but is turned over by them to various relief organizations of the county through the flour relief committee.

This flour is not given for work, as many have asserted frequently. Orders are given separately for flour and separate cards are furnished. It is true that those who are working for the mayor's relief committee do not receive flour from this committee, but are furnished Red Cross flour and the distribution is handled by the mayor's relief.

Misrepresentation Facts
People are receiving this flour through misrepresentation. Every one getting flour is asked not to take it if they have no need for the same. It is obviously impossible for someone to go around and check up each week on those receiving assistance through the mayor's relief and county welfare organization to see if they have flour in their home.

Many cases have been found where people have had a considerable stock of Red Cross flour in their homes and it has been procured by them through misrepresentation. Instances have been found of where people would get Red Cross flour with their orders and would trade it for merchandise or articles of various kinds. Where this is found, the person is cut off from further flour.

The government made no provision for financing the manufacture of the cotton and wheat into cloth and flour. This expense is being borne by the National Red Cross and is costing them $50,000 per month in addition to their regular expenses.

The chapter budget has been cut to the lowest operating cost possible when presented to the Community Chest, and when the full amount asked by the Chest was not reached in the drive last fall, the Red Cross, along with the other members had to take a reduction in their budgets, already too low.

It is for this reason, that the supplementary Roll Call is being carried out next week, and the generous consideration of the public is asked in this appeal.

A COLD Goes Thru 3 Stages!

And Relief Is Far Easier in the First Than in the Second or Third Stages!

A cold ordinarily progresses through three stages: The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is when treatment is most effective.

To stop a cold in the first stage, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It does the four things necessary. Opens the bowels, kills the germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and tones the entire system. Anything less than that is trifling with a cold. All drug stores sell Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE. Be sure you get that and nothing else. Now two sizes—30c and 50c.

Then Anne came up screaming: 'Shoot her, Sammy! Shoot her, Sammy!'

"Sammy and I grappled and the gun went off. It was in Sammy's hand and it shot her in the chest. We rolled on the floor and Anne came after me with the ironing board."

Fired Many Shots
"She was braining me with that ironing board. I got the gun from Sammy and as Anne hit me again with the board I shot her."

"She fell, and as she fell I dropped between her and Sammy."

"After Sammy shot me she didn't relax until after she shot herself in the chest. I don't know how many times I shot. When I got hold of the gun I shot and shot."

efficiency, and a deficit of approximately $5500, an amazingly low figure in the light of conditions at the present time. Like all hospitals, the operating income of the Jameson Memorial Hospital has been sharply curtailed during the present economic crisis, while the number of free patients admitted every month has increased.

At the beginning of the year there was a deficit of some $46,000. Receipts of pledges made at the time of the hospital campaign over a year ago wiped out this deficit and also cut down the operating deficit for the year bringing the present net deficit to approximately $5500. The campaign pledges amounted to approximately $65,000. Of this, some $56,000 has been paid in and every dollar of it went to where it was promised at the time of the campaign, to the reduction of the deficit which hung over the hospital.

Beginning the present year with a deficit of $5500 is nothing less than an achievement in management. The average number of free patients admitted to the hospital now numbers approximately 50 per cent of the total admissions to the hospital. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania appropriated $28,000 for the years of 1931-32 which means that $3.00 per day is allowed for every free patient, or an average of 13 daily. The number actually admitted run about 30. The per diem patient cost over and above $3.00 allowed by the state must be borne by the hospital.

Well Managed.
"The reason for the present financial condition of the Jameson Memorial Hospital is due to a number of things," said Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, managing director of the hospital. "First the officers and directors have worked unceasingly to put the hospital on a sound basis. Second, the employees of the hospital have shown a splendid spirit of co-operation in the effort to keep the deficit down as low as possible, and third we have endeavored to be as economical as it was humanly possible, keeping in mind that the high standard of efficiency maintained in the Jameson Memorial Hospital must not be impaired."

It is estimated that the net deficit for the year 1933, will not exceed $10,000, providing there is further sharp increases in the free patients and conditions are no worse. When it is remembered that the Jameson Memorial Hospital has no endowment fund to act as a sheet anchor against deficits, and that the operating revenues plus contributions are its only method of financing, the condition of the hospital as shown by the Finance Committee report is most gratifying.

president of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association. The second address will be by Cameron Beck, Personnel Director of the New York Stock Exchange.

Saturday morning the convention will elect officers, and Dr. James N. Rule, State Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction will speak on "Proposed Legislation" and Dr. W. Lee Gilmore, Supervising principal of the Oakmont, Pa. schools will speak on "School Employees Retirement System."

The introduction of new officers will close the convention. In addition to these sessions there will be sectional conferences in various rooms, the program of which will be announced later.

Bessemer High School News

John H. Frederick, athletic director, had charge of the assembly program on Friday afternoon. Following a number by the orchestra, directed by George Peltz, Mr. Nord introduced a group of magicians from Youngstown who entertained the student body with a few card and coin tricks which also served as an advertisement for a program to be given next Friday afternoon and evening at the high school. After another orchestra selection, Coach Frederick's Tumbling Club proved their ability on the mat with the following stunts:

Forward and backward roll, forward fish flop, elephant and caterpillar walk, Eskimo roll, shoulder stand, knee and head support, the knee flip, turn over, back roll, somersault, daddies front and back stand, cart wheel, front and back hand-spring, sitting hand spring, back somersault and forward dive.

The members who made this program possible were: Frank Clark, Henry Throop, Edward Watson, Edward Kurler, Billy Gimes, Dick DeArment, Wilbur Summers, Roger Thomas, Melon Puz, Vladimir Slavich, William Rubens, Edward Slavich, Rudy Juranda, Rudy Harvatin, Archie Shoup, Edward Bobic, Archie Young, Rudy Percic, Peter Rachic, Frank Gorenz, Emery Bobic, Neal Mack, Emery Bobic.

The Dramatic Club held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. One act plays were read by Kenneth Young in an attempt to find a sketch suitable for an early presentation. The acting president, Mary Pusnik, resigned and Betty Nord was elected in her place. The members plan to hold a social meeting January 24.

Ninety three students banked a total of twelve dollars and thirty-one cents on School Banking Day, Thursday January 12. The twelfth grade still leads.

Grade 10—16 deposits—$1.39.
Grade 9—19 deposits—$3.36.
Grade 8—5 deposits—$66.

The student cabinet met Monday morning at 8:30 in the Music Room for its regular business meeting called by the president, Dorothy Engle. Committees were appointed to take care of a School Beautiful campaign and for framing an amendment to the constitution. The next meeting will be held in two weeks, January 23, at the same hour.

A faculty meeting will be held on Monday at four o'clock to make arrangements for the new semester which begins on Friday, January 20. Mid-term examinations will be given this week.

RUTH JUDD TELLS INTIMATE DETAILS OF TRAGIC EVENT

a result of which she must pay with her own was the background, she said.

Throughout her recital flamed her bitterness against Halloran.

"He is responsible for the death of three girls," she screamed once, running to counsel table where Halloran sat.

"You sit there and laugh—you don't care what happened to Sammy—that she and Anne are dead and that I am going to die."

Just before she left the stand for the day another outburst in which she shrieked accusations at the rich lumberman, brought him to his feet.

Halloran Aroused.
"You can't say that about me," he half-shouted and he started toward her only to be restrained by his attorney.

Whether or not Mrs. Judd will resume the stand depends upon admission of testimony she gave before the grand jury. If the court rules favorably, the defense expects to question her further.

Meanwhile the state continued its effort to bring Halloran to trial as an accessory by producing a surprise witness, Miss Maude Marshall who lived near Mrs. Judd's apartment told of having seen Halloran there several times. On the night of the murder she saw a Packard automobile drive up and being curious took its number. She was expected to be questioned further today as to the identity of this car.

Tells About Quarrel.
The fatal quarrel began, Mrs. Judd testified, when Anne asked her how Halloran came to meet Lucille Moore.

"I told her I introduced them," said Mrs. Judd.

"She said: 'Don't you know better than to introduce Jack to her?'"

"I asked her what difference it made. I told her she had no reason to tell professional secrets. Anne said she was going to tell Jack."

"Then she said she was going to tell my husband about Jack coming over to see me every night. Then I told her I would tell about she and Jack staying at the Plaza hotel in San Francisco."

"We argued and Sammy started to yell at me saying I had no right to say such things. Then Sammy came after me with a gun. I grabbed a bread-knife and stabbed her twice after she shot me in the hand."

"Then Anne came up screaming: 'Shoot her, Sammy! Shoot her, Sammy!'"

"Sammy and I grappled and the gun went off. It was in Sammy's hand and it shot her in the chest. We rolled on the floor and Anne came after me with the ironing board."

HARRISBURG Jan. 19.—Within a week after Secretary of Internal Affairs Philip H. Dewey had denounced the "Baker Estate" as a fraud, letters from various parts of Pennsylvania and New York state reached that official inquiring as to existence of a "Livingstone Estate," in Pennsylvania. This "estate" like the "Baker Estate" claims many of the most valued sites in Philadelphia. In replying to the inquiries, Secretary Dewey said the Department of Internal Affairs believes the whole matter is a fake. He added that "there are more than forty so-called estates in Pennsylvania where unscrupulous lawyers and others are making capital out of the innocent public" by spreading false information.

Old Time Fiddler Features Program

The "Standing Room Only" sign had to be hung out at Socialist party headquarters last night when the weekly musical night was held. Several people were turned away because of the lack of room in the hall.

The "Riggins Stringed orchestra" again was the feature attraction of the evening. It delighted with a variety of numbers, both popular and of days gone by. Charles Eskew, champion old time fiddler, was present and made every person wish to wiggle his toes with the old time music that he brought forth from his fiddle. Arthur Weinburg featured with several comic songs of his own composition.

It was decided to hold these "musicals" every week, the next one to be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Takes Issue With Plan Of Governor Pinchot

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 19.—Recommendations regarding highway development and restrictions on motor trucks made by Governor Pinchot in his recent message to the legislature, would greatly increase the cost of the state highway system while destroying an important source of highway revenue, according to J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil company. Mr. Pew today addressed a letter to the governor giving his views on this phase of the message.

Pointing out that the state highway system is supported by motor license and incidental fees, and gasoline taxes, Mr. Pew stated that the proposal to add 53,000 miles to the system would impose on motorists a burden of $400,000,000 added construction costs, and annual maintenance costs of between $50,000,000 and $86,000,000 for the system as a whole. Farmers, whom the roads are chiefly intended to benefit, would carry a substantial part of the burden with their approximately 75,000 trucks and large share of passenger cars.

The proposal that at the same time costs are being increased, certain classes of trucks be forced out of business, can best be compared, Mr. Pew says, to a great business organization proposing to increase its plant and capacity enormously while undertaking to drive away a large group of its paying customers. Commercial vehicles, according to figures given by Mr. Pew, pay 36.2 per cent of the total license and gasoline taxes, all of which go to the highway fund.

In connection with the governor's suggestion that one cent be added to the gasoline, Mr. Pew says, "your administration's experience with Pennsylvania's gasoline taxes will not need to be recalled to you; it showed a reduced ratio of collections when the tax rate was raised, and an increased ratio of collections when the tax rate was lowered." Mr. Pew adds that in the District of Columbia and three states which have only a 2-cent tax, gasoline consumption has increased an average of 6.7 per cent during the past year, while in 45 states having a 3 to 7-cent tax the falling off in sales ran from 1.3 per cent to over 13 per cent.

Referring to the governor's statement, "It is not good public policy to let the trucks ruin the railroads and injure investors in railroad securities," Mr. Pew quotes figures to show that railroad freight revenue increased nearly 150 per cent from 1912 to 1929, at the time when the truck was taking its place in the national transportation system. He asserts that the railroads' business is depressed because all business is depressed, and that the trucks have made far more tonnage for the railroads than they have taken from them.

"The automotive and oil industries together," Mr. Pew says, "have originated more than 12 per cent of carload freight for the railroads, while the best authorities say the railroads have lost not to exceed 5 per cent of freight to the trucks. It would be just as reasonable to accuse the truck depressing the price of farm products, as to charge it with the decline in railroad revenue."

Temple Israel Friday Services

Child Labor Will Be Basis Of Sermons By Rabbi Gross Field For Two Weeks

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues, will devote its next two Friday evening services to the consideration of the child labor problem and to the program of National Child Labor Week. At the next service, which will take place on Friday evening, January 20, at 8 o'clock, Rabbi Avery Jonah Gross, field will speak on "Child Labor—Its Effects on the Child of Today and the Adult of Tomorrow," and on Friday evening, January 27, the topic of the discourse will be "Child Labor—Its Effect on the Community of Today and the Community of Tomorrow." The public is cordially invited to hear these two vital topics discussed; there will be no charge of admission or solicitation of funds in any form whatsoever.

The Saturday morning program includes religious school classes between 9:30 and 11 o'clock, and religious services between 11 and 12 o'clock. Two members of the children's congregation—Reva Love and Jeanette Kulkin—will take part in reading the prayers.

The flowers that will adorn the pulpit this week-end have been offered by Mr. and Mrs. M. Schoenberg, in honor of the birthday of their mother, Mrs. Emory Fleischer. After the Friday evening services the members and friends will enjoy an hour of fellowship in the vestry rooms of the temple. Mr. and Mrs. J. Kulkin will be the hosts in honor of their wedding anniversary, which occurred several weeks ago.

CHILD LABOR WEEK

Child Labor Week in 1933 falls on January 23 to 30. With two million boys and girls gainfully employed, while millions of adult breadwinners are out of work, there is urgent necessity this year for focusing public attention upon the evils of child labor. President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt have both recently called attention to the necessity of eliminating children from the labor market, and providing a suitable type of education for them.

Child Labor Week affords a timely occasion for the focus of public interest on the removal of low paid children from industry, not only for their own protection, but in order to keep sweat-shop wages from sinking to such disgraceful levels and to help maintain standards of fairness throughout industry. It is up to us, the citizens of Pennsylvania, to give serious consideration to this problem, which affects not only the poor innocent children who are consigned to virtual slavery in their young years, but which also affects the welfare of our state and nation, for the children of today are the citizens of tomorrow, and if we do not put a stop to the present conditions, the citizens of tomorrow will be ignorant, illiterate, sickly and disillusioned, and will not be able to give their best to the growth and betterment of our state and country.

(Signed)

AVERY JONAH GROSSFIELD, Rabbi, Temple Israel.

Harmony Baptist Revival Meetings

Services Being Held In Church On New Castle-Ellwood Road

The revival meetings now in progress at the Harmony Baptist church on the New Castle-Ellwood City road are increasing nightly both in interest and attendance.

On Sunday evening an inspiring crowd which nearly filled the church auditorium greeted the pastor, Rev. S. L. Cobb, when he spoke from the subject, "The Altar at Bochim."

On Monday evening the pastor brought a message from the subject, "The Bible's Most Glorious Promise," basing his remarks on John 5:24.

On Tuesday evening Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church of New Castle, was greeted by a large and appreciative audience as he brought a vivid message based upon the conflict between Israel and Amalek as recorded in Exodus 17:8-16. He placed strong emphasis on the value and power of prayer in God's service.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burrows of Ellwood City, well known gospel singers, have been present each evening and have contributed in a large measure to the success of the meetings through the proclamation of the gospel in song. Mr. Barr accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Burrows on Tuesday evening and assisted in the music.

On Friday evening the Young Men's Bible class of the First Congregational church of New Castle will attend and sing.

Services will continue every evening this week commencing at 7:45 with the exception of Saturday evening.

PLAN STUDENT'S FAREWELL
 George Washington junior high school will hold its traditional farewell ceremonies for the departing class of ninth graders at a chapel in the school auditorium on Thursday afternoon, January 26. A large number will enter Senior high from that building on Monday, January 30.

Punxsutawney Man Warned His Child Will Be Kidnaped

Same Fate Met By Charles Lindbergh, Jr., Threatened To Druggist's Child

(International News Service)
 PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Police here today said they were searching for a man and a woman who five times in the last six days have made telephonic threats to "duplicate the Lindbergh baby kidnapping" with one-year-old Beverly Margner as the victim.

Each afternoon at about the same hour, either the man or the woman has telephoned the infant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Margner, with this warning, police said. Margner is considered a fairly well-to-do druggist here.

The callers made no attempt to extort money from the Margners, merely warning them to watch their infant closely because they intended to mete out to Beverly the fate that overtook the Lindbergh child.

DISTRICT MANAGER HERE
 C. S. Ross of Bellevue, Pa., was a business caller at the local offices of the Manufacturers' Heat & Light company on Wednesday. He is district manager of the concern.

P. E. Gordon, also of the Bellevue office, is here on business today.

By ARTHUR G. WIMER
 Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—Representative J. Howard Swick has given the House of Representatives a petition from the Jefferson Center Presbyterian church in Butler county opposing repeal or modification legislation and urging exclusion of aliens in congressional re-appointment.

The petition was signed by Rev. C. R. Thayer, pastor, and 52 members of the church.

TO MAKE HUGE PROTEST ON SUNDAY LAW REPEAL

Giant Petition To Be Presented

Church Members To Sign Protest Against Repeal Of Sunday Laws

ALSO OPPOSED TO SNYDER ACT REPEAL

Members of Bible classes and church members of 21 of the leading churches of the city will be asked to sign a giant petition on Sunday morning, protesting against the proposed attempt to repeal or amend the Sunday Observance Laws of 1794 and against the repeal of the Snyder Act. The petitions have been prepared and are now being distributed to church and Sunday school leaders for presentation Sunday morning.

The matter has already been discussed in several committee meetings held by representatives of various churches; and a week ago, J. Audley Boak, Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, pledged the membership of the Grange, 70,000 strong, against the proposed attempt to break down the Sunday observance laws.

When the petitions are all signed and collected, they will be presented to State Senator A. S. Batchelor, Representatives William McElwe, Jr., and William G. Eroe, Jr., and to Governor Pinchot as a protest against the passage of legislation which is now in the legislative hopper in Harrisburg.

PETITION OF ELECTORS
We, the undersigned electors residing in New Castle and Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, believe

That all good and wise laws have their true foundation in the divine law.

That the provisions of that law for a Sabbath of rest has been proven to be wise and beneficial and conducive to the physical, mental and moral well being of mankind, and therefore, to the progress and prosperity of society.

That changing social and economic conditions do not necessarily abrogate the divine law.

That we may not safely presume to enact legislation contrary in spirit and purpose to that of the higher law to which all men are subject.

We, therefore, respectfully urge upon our representatives in the legislature that they use their vote and influence to defeat any repeal or modification of the Act approved April 22, 1794, known as the Sunday Observance Law.

We do further hereby respectfully protest and object to the repeal or modification of the Act approved March 27, 1923, known as the Snyder Act, and in case said Act should become inoperative in any respect by reason of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution or the repeal of the Volstead Act, then we do respectfully urge the immediate enactment of legislation which shall be equally effective to the Snyder Act to prevent the manufacture, sale, gift, distribution, possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor in the State of Pennsylvania.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Bear Is Seen Near Edenburg

Believe It To Be Same Seen In North Beaver Township Last Fall

What is believed to be the same bear seen several times last fall in North Beaver township was seen again Tuesday afternoon near Edenburg.

Herbert Dungan, of Newell avenue, this city, was cutting wood at one end of the J. O. Dickson farm. William and Thomas Dickson were with him. Some little distance from them they saw an animal moving in a thicket. There having been some talk of wild dogs roaming over the farms of this particular vicinity they believed the animal to be a dog.

Their opinion was quickly changed however when the animal started to run. It had the build and swaying run that only a bear can have.

SOME EARLY PLANNING!
After hearing a local man map out to his listeners where he is going to spend next Fourth of July, it wouldn't be very surprising if someone should be seen shopping for next Christmas! Speaking of pre-seasonal activities, a week ago the writer was stopped on the street by a little girl who pulled out of a book a lace Valentine she had been creating! She is one little lady who will not be taken unawares when February 14 slips around.

P. S.—And the Methodist and Presbyterian church choirs, the writer is told, are preparing their Easter cantata for that Sunday of April 16 (three months away.)

RUSH FOR STICKERS
Although motorists have until March 31 to get the new inspection stickers for their windshields, the local inspection stations report they have been kept unusually busy in the past week. Ordinarily most of the stickers are not called for until the last month before enforcement.

Most of the inspection in the past week was of seventh ward cars. The new stickers are pink and of the usual keystone shape.

KNOW WHERE IT IS?
It is a fact that only a few seventh ward people know where Edenburg is or that such a place exists. It is located this side of Enon Valley and the "town" consists of just two houses, one being a blacksmith shop. There was a postoffice there years ago and the name was necessary for mailing purposes, the writer is informed.

GO TO McBRIDE'S
Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, of Newell avenue, and a group of Presbyterian church women gathered on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Joseph McBride, East Brook road, for an all day quilting. Mrs. McBride, a former resident of seventh ward, is improving from a long illness.

COVER WITH STRAW
Concrete laying has been resumed at the P. and L. E. station site after a lapse of a few days due to cold weather. After the cement is laid and rolled it is covered with a bed of straw.

DEATH OF BROTHER
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Prater, of Wash avenue, were called to Ford City this week by the death of Mrs. Prater's brother.

LIBRARY IS OPEN
Mahoningtown's branch of the city public library is open for the use of local residents this afternoon and this evening.

IS WELL ATTENDED
It is reported that last night's union prayer service conducted in the local Methodist church was well attended. Congregations of the Christian and Presbyterian churches as well as Methodist of the ward were there. Rev. W. W. Sniff was in charge.

ALMIRA SERVICE
The Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, Rev. D. C. Schnebly pastor, will have charge of the prayer service Friday afternoon at the Almira Home, East Washington street. The service will commence at 3 o'clock.

CLUB TONIGHT
Members of the W. A. G. club will be entertained by Mrs. Kenneth Walter at her home on West Clayton street this evening.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Woodson Teece, of Pittsburgh, spent Wednesday afternoon in seventh ward on business.

Miss Margaret Evans, of the Mt. Jackson road, and Mac Solomon, North Liberty street, left on Wednesday for a few days' visit in Wheeling, West Virginia.

James Newmark, of Pittsburgh, was a business visitor in seventh ward Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Ann Marie Kelso, of Akron, O., visited several school friends in this ward Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Potter, and family, of near Punxsutawney, Pa., spent Tuesday with relatives in this ward.

PREPARING TO CONSTRUCT CURB
Harry Hoskins, city engineers, said today that workmen are preparing to pour concrete for the curb in the vicinity of East Washington and Junior High streets. The curb will be put in along the south side. A step, similar to that constructed in Long Avenue will be built.

Observations In 7th Ward

A large group of Mahoning school students are spending their last couple of weeks with their alma mater. Soon they will leave for the two junior highs and then after a year's study will enter senior high.... These youngsters from the northern end of the ward who formerly attended Lawrence school had been make up their minds to walk to Mahoning instead of trying to hitchhike on North Liberty street. This is not only annoying to motorists but dangerous for the students.... The newly surfaced road from the Enon highway past Rufus McKinley's farm and toward the Ohio line is now being used and is greatly appreciated, the writer is told.... One of the most fascinating places to spend an hour is the New Castle Junction. Something interesting for a novice to see every minute.... West Pittsburgh students who attend school each day in New Castle have a gay old time coming home on the P. & L. E. train. The train is uncanonically quiet after they get off at their station.

FENCING IS REPAIRED
Employees of the New Castle Box Factory spent Wednesday afternoon in repairing the fence around the factory grounds on North Cedar street. Parts of the high fence had fallen down in the past several months.

L. S. C. BOOK CLUB
The L. S. C. Book club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock with Mrs. W. H. Maerkmann, Clayton street.

START GRADE WORK
Work of grading the Pullerton road from Mt. Jackson toward Mt. Air has just been started. The state

Rev. Samuel Maxwell, Former New Castle Pastor To Conduct Services

(International News Service)
OIL CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Full military honors marked the final tribute to be paid here today to Major General George C. Rickards, war-time commander of the 112th Infantry, who died here earlier in the week.

Rickards' body was to lie in state in Grace Methodist Episcopal church, where he worshipped for years, from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. Then funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Maxwell, pastor, and the Rev. Dr. Martin Aigner, rector of St. John's Episcopal church at Franklin.

At the conclusion of the simple rites, the casket, bearing the body of the veteran of many battles, will be placed on a gun caisson.

Headed by the American Legion Band, the cortege will wind its way to Grove Hill cemetery.

Among the wartime associates of Major General Rickards, who are expected to attend the funeral, are Col. Charles B. Smathers of Scotland, Pa., and Captain Daniel Core of Ford City.

Mounting Attendance Proves Feature Of Annual State Farm Show

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 19.—Mounting attendance figures today marked the progress of Pennsylvania's 17th farm show.

The largest single day's crowd to attend the exposition was recorded yesterday when the official estimate placed the total at 78,000.

One of the biggest attractions of the show was scheduled for today and tomorrow, the horseshoe pitching contest. Thirty-three contestants from 21 counties have been entered. The main pavilion of the big shed will be given over exclusively to the tournament.

COUNTY POOR DOCTOR IN NEW HEADQUARTERS
County Poor Physician W. D. Cleland, M. D., today had located himself in his newly renovated quarters on the second floor of the Court street home housing the county's poor department. County patients who formerly visited his own office must now report to him there.

Dr. Cleland's office is but a room away from County Welfare Officer M. B. Hogue, and allows more convenience than heretofore. His daily office hours will be from 10 a. m. to noon.

Attorney In Mrs. Judd Prosecution Was Counsel For Dague And Irene

Attorney Renz Jennings of Phoenix, Arizona, seems destined to be associated with sensational murder cases. He is the County Attorney of Maricopa County, Arizona, which is about one third of the entire state, and in this capacity is conducting the hearing of Winnie Ruth Judd, condemned to the gallows for the murder of two women in Phoenix, but who is now telling the story of the participation of "Happy Jack" Holloran in the case.

Three years ago today Jennings was one of the lawyers retained by Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague in their fight to escape extradition from Arizona to Lawrence County, Pennsylvania to stand trial for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul of the Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol on the Butler road.

Jennings is a young man and presented a stiff argument for his clients but could not break down the perfect extradition papers and arguments sent out by District Attorney John S. Powers and Attorney George W. Muse who was in the case with Powers.

Three years ago today County Detective H. M. Lee and a party of officers were on the way to Phoenix to bring back the two murderers who paid their debt in the electric chair a year later.

The position of County Attorney of Maricopa County is an important one and there some five or six deputy attorneys attached to the office. Phoenix is the county seat of Maricopa County and also the capitol of the State of Arizona and the immensity of the size of the county coupled with the work added because of the fact that the State capitol is there, places a heavy legal burden upon the county attorney's shoulders. In many ways he corresponds to the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, although his duties are not quite so full as this officer.

Start Survey Of Modified Canal

United States Army Engineers Have Begun Re-Survey Of Local Streams
HAVE ORDERS TO RUSH WORK ALONG
United States Army Engineers at Pittsburgh under Major W. D. Styer started work on the re-survey of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers, from Beaver to Struthers, it was stated by Major Styer yesterday.
General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers has issued orders to have the survey completed as early as possible. Additional study of the project will be made by the Pittsburgh engineers to determine the cost and advisability of canalization of the two streams as far as Struthers.
The modified project was placed before the Rivers and Harbors Congress at Washington yesterday by Youngstown men, who formed a delegation to the Capital.
Data is being gathered locally by E. W. Beadle, vice president of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers Improvement Association, relative to the curtailment of local industry through lack of water transportation.
The re-survey will be largely an economic one, no civil survey being necessary as this work was completed last year. It is expected to take about three months to complete the survey.

THE IROQUOIS WAR TRAIL—No. 4. Chief Hendrick's "Dream"
A LITTLE LATER JOHNSON SPOKE TO HENDRICK ABOUT A CERTAIN TRACT OF IROQUOIS LAND HE WISHED TO ACQUIRE. "BROTHER," SAID THE CUNNING IRISHMAN, "I, TOO, HAVE HAD A DREAM. I DREAMT THAT IN ANSWER TO MY WISH YOU GAVE ME THAT PIECE OF LAND."
ONE DAY HENDRICK SAID TO SIR WILLIAM JOHNSON, "BROTHER, I HAD A DREAM. I DREAMT THAT YOU GAVE ME YOUR GOLDEN COAT." "SINCE DREAMS SHOULD COME TRUE," ANSWERED SIR WILLIAM, "I SUPPOSE I SHALL HAVE TO GIVE YOU THE COAT." RESIDENT IN HIS NEW FINERY THE DELIGHTED CHIEF RETURNED TO HIS VILLAGE.
THE OLD CHIEF WAS STAGGERED BY THIS REQUEST, BUT MANAGED TO REPLY CALMLY, "THE LAND SHALL BE YOURS, BROTHER. THEN, SOMEWHAT RUEFULLY, HE ADDED, "BUT FROM NOW ON LET US BOTH STOP DREAMING." JOHNSON WAS ONLY PLAYING A JOKE ON HENDRICK, AND LATER PAID FULL VALUE FOR THE LAND.

Is Improving
Strength In Tobacco Stocks
Gives Market Impetus
This Morning

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Strength in the tobacco and the hope that President-Elect Roosevelt's conference in Washington today and tomorrow would break the congressional legislative jam brought a better stock market today.

The improvement was aided by a rally in wheat and cotton. Bonds were still mixed but the undertone was better.

The rise in the tobacco ran from 1 to 2 points and was touched off by a bullish demonstration in Liggett & Myers B. American Tobacco B. was strong also.

A better tone in the rails helped the recovery. Carrier stocks showed a uniformly better tone, reflecting the upturn in traffic last week.

Oils were heavy on the spread of the crude price cutting movement but no weakness developed.

Leaders including U. S. Steel common and preferred, American Telephone and Allied Chemical scored gains running to a point and more.

Trading continued quiet and volume ran around yesterday's small total.

PLAN NO CHANGE
IN COUNTY METHOD
OF RELIEF WORK

relief funds here as economically and as efficiently as possible. When the board was appointed we found that the relief work was being handled here by three agencies, the county commissioners, the mayor's office and the Ellwood City Service League.

"All three of these organizations were and are doing a splendid piece of work and because we found this fact to be true after an investigation, we felt that no change should be made, save where duplication occurred. We found that there was some slight duplication of effort in the lower end of the county and suggested that the Ellwood Community Service League handle Ellwood City, Wayne and Perry townships exclusively. The commissioners agreed to do this and this plan is being carried out.

"Some months ago the commissary plan was in vogue here because the league was handling those residents of Beaver county who are in the Ellwood City district were cared for by the Ellwood Community Service League. Beaver county changed from the commissary plan to the order plan and the league changed at the same time. The county commissary plan was used for a time, and the mayor's relief has a commissary system of baskets filled with groceries purchased from New Castle business houses.

"There may be some slight inaccuracies arise now and then. Being human beings, it must be expected that no relief organization will be absolutely perfect. Coupled with this is the fact that there will always be some misrepresentation upon the part of the people getting aid. Every case that is added to the relief agencies here is investigated first before being put on.

"The commissary plan advocated by the State Emergency Relief board and which is being used in some counties, is not to be confused with the commissary plan used by the mayor's relief. The state plan would be to purchase commodities in huge lots and then send them out to the various communities. This commissary plan of the state was adopted upon the motion of State Treasurer Edward Martin, seconded by Lieutenant Governor Shannon and passed by the board. The board is composed of Governor Pinchot, Lieutenant Governor Shannon, State Treasurer Martin, Auditor General Waters, Senate President Pro-Tem James Boyd and Speaker of the House Talbot.

"Mr. Elder and I talked with all of the board save State Treasurer Martin and Auditor General Waters, both of whom were absent from Harrisburg. They assured us that the board intended to give the county boards all the leeway possible, and that for the present at least there would be no change. Should there be any change in the future, it will be only when it has been proven that the commissary plan will save the state money. As for the local board, we believe it to be better to handle the situation in the way we have. We have found the wholesale and retail merchants to be fair in their business dealings and we believe it better that local business houses should be given the business when they have displayed the willingness to cooperate in the matter of costs they have displayed here."

New Brighton Hi Wins From Tubers

Last Quarter Rally Cinches Game For Roark Men Wednesday Night

NEW CASTLE HERE FRIDAY EVENING

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 19.—Staging a last quarter offensive drive New Brighton High School was able to down Ellwood City High 22-16 last night on the New Brighton floor. The game was close and hard fought throughout with the blue and white passers gradually creeping up in New Brighton's lead.

The home team's remarkable ability to come from the free throw line was largely responsible for their victory. The Ellwoodians scored on the first play after the opening whistle when Ray Lattiano made a fine shot from the vicinity of the foul line. Their lead was short lived when Fields accounted for two free throws and immediately after made two successive baskets. Then Keppan added two field goals. Vandrello and Lattiano were able to score before the period ended with New Brighton leading 11-5.

Upon the resumption of play in the ensuing period the home team found an impregnable defense which yielded only for one point while they collected 3 to make the score at half-time 12-8 for New Brighton.

The final two quarters of the game were fast and furious with New Brighton always managing to stay one field goal ahead of the Benedict men. Twice it appeared that the Tubers were going to overtake New Brighton but each time this illusion was spoiled with a nice set shot from the hands of the opponents. As Vandrello made a basket early in the third quarter, J. Vuckich repeated for the visitors. The two rivals just took turns in making field goals. The score at the end of the period was 16-14 for the Roark men.

As the final quarter got underway the Roarkmen unleashed a fast offensive that resulted in two successive field goals by Molter and Walker. Ellwood was held to two fouls in this period which were made by Barnes and Bolotin. Walker added two of these as the final whistle blew, making the score 22-16.

Davy Bolotin, Ellwood's flashy little forward played a bang-up game and obtained the most field goals for the evening, three in number shared high score honors with Fields.

Vandrello and Keppan both got two double deckers apiece. Captain Barnes played a brilliant game at center last night, consistently getting the tip-off and making it possible for his team mates to score. "Coach" Ganzy Benedict announced that he will hold a special drill this evening at the Lincoln gymnasium for the invasion of undefeated New Castle Hi team. A long floor and skull drill is on tap for this evening. Ways and means of penetrating the Bridenbaugh men's zone defense will be thoroughly rehearsed. The locals are about due for a section victory. Incidentally this will be the final game here for Captain Tom Barnes and Johnny Uram. Both will be at their best. It will be a game well worth watching.

Many Proposals Are Up For Consideration In State Legislature

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Radical changes in the present statutes would result if many of the bills now before the General Assembly were enacted into law. Gasoline tax would be reduced to two cents per gallon, drivers licenses would be cut in half, and automobile licenses cut to $5, and thirty million dollars taken from the highway fund to distribute to cities, and townships if the bills providing for these changes were passed and signed. Actually, all of this could not be done if there were to be any money for the construction and maintenance of state highways and the redemption of bonds incurred some years ago. Another bill would make the state liable for damages to property where highways were built.

One bill that will interest sportsmen is that which would take from the game fund, sufficient money to pay taxes back to the counties where land has been purchased for game refuge purposes. Another bill that will interest sportsmen is the one which would repeal the Boxing Commission Act.

Reduce Salaries
Salaries of legislators would be reduced to $2500 under the terms of one bill and to $2000 under the terms of another bill. An additional tax upon chain stores is provided in one bill already presented, while another tax bill would place the responsibility of collecting the personal property tax now in vogue upon the Department of Revenue instead of the county treasurer.

One law that is under an unusually heavy attack this time is the law of 1794, sometimes known as the Blue Law. Seven bills have been presented which would amend or repeal these laws. Two of them provide for a referendum in the matter in cities and townships, another would permit city councils to decide by ordinance just how far a city should go, and still another deals only with baseball and other outdoor sports.

Several Repealers.
Several repealers have been presented for the Snyder Act, and the Sterling bill would set up a system whereby the state could supervise the manufacture, sale and distribution of intoxicating liquors, dependent upon the action of Congress in repealing or amending the Volstead Act.

Like every previous session there are hundreds of bills presented that will never see the light of day. Many of them are pet bills born in prejudice and presented to cure some local evil. Others are so drastic in their change of existing laws that to enact them would bring chaos.

For the next seven or eight weeks every Monday night will see a flood of bills dealing with every phase of human endeavor, with the probability that when the session ends, there will have been some change in tax laws, a revision of the School Code, and the usual appropriation bills, reduced somewhat because of the estimated condition of the state treasury in the next two years.

Second Semester Opens January 30

Expect Considerable Number Of New Pupils To Enter Classes

CHILDREN MUST BE VACCINATED

With the beginning of examinations in the Senior High school, the first semester of the New Castle Public Schools draws to a close, and January 30 will see the first semester formally ended. January 30 will mark the opening of the second semester.

It is anticipated that between 150 and 200 new students will be entered in the first grade of the various schools on January 30 and for two weeks thereafter, the time allowed for entering boys and girls who will have passed their sixth birthday before the end of the second semester early in June.

Get Them Vaccinated

Speaking of the new students who will be enrolled, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools said today, "I would like to urge upon fathers and mothers the necessity of getting their boys and girls vaccinated. Each student must have been vaccinated before he or she can enter, and I would also recommend a physical examination by the family physician before the child enters."

"There may be some students who will be six on entry day or before the semester closes, but who would be better off at home for the semester. It is most important to the welfare of the students that they should have strong bodies when they enter school life, that they may have keener minds. Missing the semester is not nearly so important as seeing that the youngsters are in good physical condition."

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Out in North Beaver Township, the folks are about ready for a referendum on this weather. Whether to keep the chains out in the garage or get out the plow and oil it up. After a discovery of several days ago in the woods near Mt. Jackson, you can expect anything.

The story is offered by the county treasurer, W. O. Pitts, and you can take it or leave it. Several of his friends were out in the woods sawing and as they came to a hole in one tree a flock or a family of grasshoppers flew out, much disturbed over having their privacy invaded.

This may indicate a mild winter, or the return of the seventeen year locust, or the end of Huey Long's filibuster, or that the price of nut coal is going up. But Pitts says the story is true.

The minstrel virus is a disturbing thing. Once in the blood it never is completely ousted and sporadically returns to plague the victim. About the only cure for it is a minstrel show and Bert Sanford has the yen to blacken up again. Wants to put on a minstrel show sometime this winter for a benefit of something or other, and it really doesn't make much difference whose benefit it is.

The thing is, Sanford has heard the ghostly call of minstrel voices in his ear, maybe both his ears, and until unless he gets a circle of minstrel men on some stage singing "Georgia Moon" his whole winter will be spoiled. All he needs is something to hold a benefit for.

Three years ago today the engineer was somewhere west of Topeka, Kansas about this time of day, headed for Phoenix, Arizona with a group of gendarmes. It was the first trip into and across what was once known as the Great American Desert, and somehow that trip will always stand out for color, interest and speed.

Several of us had the thing all planned out mentally. We would probably stay in Phoenix for a couple of days and there were so many things to see, Roosevelt Dam, the Painted Desert, the Estrella Mountains, these and a lot of other interesting places. Of the three mentioned we just missed three. The governor of Arizona turned the prisoners loose in a hurry and we were on our way back that night.

But as fast as the trip was, there were a number of things that still stand out. The Execution Wall in Juarez, the tortillas, and the beggars sunning themselves in the yard of the Mission of Senora Guadalupe. The jack rabbits racing the train thru the snows of Kansas, the Maricopa Indians in and around Phoenix. The chili con carne and enchiladas. Sunset over that endless space of sand and mesquite known as the desert. The orange trees on the capitol grounds in Phoenix. The end of the snow at Tucuman. New Mexico, the Arizona-Biltmore hotel out on the desert, looking like some huge pleasure boat anchored at night.

Doc Berger racing us through the black of the desert night at sixty miles an hour in his car, and some of us wondering how it felt to upset on a cactus. The sombreros of the southwest, the dry air, the Mexican food, and those brown skinned gals who danced on the sidewalks in Juarez.

This job of being a lineman isn't such a basket picnic as it might look on a nice day. Midnight last night was mean, rain coming down that hit you right in the back of the neck. A few stragglers getting home as fast as they could, and up on East Washington street a line-man trudging along with his tool kit on his back, looking for trouble.

This morning they were still out there, looking bedraggled and uncomfortable, and while you and I were giving Morpheus a pushing around, the linemen were out patching up something that had happened to the wires.

Out of the Greensburg barracks comes a new story on bootleg operations. The law nabbed a lad in a high powered car the other afternoon with 1100 pints of what he had jestingly been selling as liquor. Along with the liquor was a small sack of slugs, just the right size and weight to operate pay telephones.

Every seventy miles the lad stopped at a pay station and called the Big Shot in New York, and the telephone company probably has a collection of slugs between Greensburg and New York which they can tuck among their souvenirs.

Most Of State Regulated For Japanese Beetle

Amendment To Quarantine Regulations Announced By Government Today

An amendment to the Japanese beetle quarantine regulations has been announced by the U. S. department of agriculture, effective January 23, under which changes are made in the boundaries of the regulated area. The first is adopted at the request of the authorities of Pennsylvania. Under it, five entire uninfested counties and parts of two additional uninfested counties, which had been included within the regulated area under the recent revision, are placed outside. This territory adjoins Erie county, the omission of which from the regulated area had already been announced. The object of the removal is to provide additional protection for the fruit-growing area of Pennsylvania adjoining the regulated area. It provides a wider area or protective zone where free movement of infested products is prohibited.

Under the revision as now amended, the area in Pennsylvania regulated on account of the Japanese beetle includes the entire state except Crawford, Erie, Forest, Mercer, Venango and Warren counties, Mercer township in Butler county and Ashland, Beaver, Elk, Richland, Salem and Washington townships in Clarion county.

Phalanx Frat Hears Gibson Tell Major Step In Transportation March

Depicting the advance in transportation that has pared down the time for crossing the American continent from 12 months to nearly 12 hours, all within the space of a century, Jesse Gibson, this city, imparted to the Phalanx fraternity at the Y. M. C. A. a general review of America's great automotive industry. Gibson compared 1830's ox team mode of travel to the modern transcontinental airship, adding that hardly a person dare predict what the next 10 years will bring.

The speaker termed today the start of a new "business era". Radical changes, he declared, are bound to come. While 25 million automobiles are in operation in the country today, Gibson asserted that 10,000 of them are being taken off the roadways every day.

The Phalanx membership will hold a stag dinner here next Wednesday. A delegation of members will also motor to Meadville on Sunday to attend an open forum conference which an Allegheny college professor will conduct.

SCHOOL EXAMS KEEP STUDENTS ENGAGED; SEMESTER CLOSING

Textbooks alone concerned the senior high school student body today as the second day of the usual mid-year examination week drew to a close. School classes temporarily dismissed while tests are given, will resume next week.

The January 27th commencement of over 200 seniors will mark the close of the first semester's period and Monday, January 30, marks the opening of the new.

Presbyterians Of Pulaski Meet

Congregation In Excellent Condition—Plan For Every Member Canvass

The quarterly meeting of officers of the Presbyterian church of Pulaski, were entertained on Tuesday night, January 16, at the home of Mrs. Mary Gibson whose son, Donald, with Dorris Fulkman, Fred Wallace and L. L. Rodger made up the committee.

Plans for the every member canvass were discussed and reports from various boards and committees heard. The church is in good condition, both financially and in the faithfulness of its membership and the outlook for the coming year is encouraging.

Membership of the Sabbath school has trebled in the last three years and two classes have organized in that time.

An oyster stew furnished the occasion for the social part of the evening. The committee was assisted in serving, by their wives and Mrs. Mary Gibson and daughter Helen.

Would Reduce Motoring Cost

Would Lower Price Of Licenses, Operators' Cards And Lower Gas Tax

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—Two more pieces of highway legislation reached the House Wednesday.

A bill sponsored by Rep. A. J. White Hutton, Franklin county, would reduce the minimum fee for automobiles from $10 to $5 and the fee for operators' licenses from $2 to $1. The three-cent state tax on gasoline would be reduced to two cents under provisions of a bill offered by Rep. Sowers, Philadelphia.

The one consolation, as income declines, is that you can pay this year's tax with last year's refund.
